

Health Promotion Awards

Our annual Monash Health Health Promotion Awards recognise the important work of Health Promotion Champions who have improved the health of their community by making healthy changes within their organisation, club, or community.

Nominate your Health Champion for a Health Promotion Award.

We invite you to nominate an individual or group who has collaborated with the Health Promotion team to improve the health and wellbeing of our community.

To nominate, simply send the nominee's name, organisation (club name, workplace name) and contact email address to healthpromotion@monashhealth.org.

Nominations close 30 August 2024

Finalists will be invited to the 2024 Health Promotion Awards event, where winners from each category will be announced.
