Prostate Cancer Education Day

A full-day session for GPs, nurses and allied health professionals

Prostate cancer is the most common cancer in Australian men, and how we diagnose and manage it has changed more in the past few years than it did in the previous two decades. Join our multidisciplinary team — urologists, oncologists, a radiologist, a cardio-oncologist and specialist nurses — for a full day of practical updates designed for GPs. Plenty of time for case discussion and your questions. Lunch is on us.
