

Simulation Debriefing Course

Course at a Glance

This two-day introductory course is designed to support novice simulation educators in developing foundational debriefing skills. Through interactive sessions, participants will explore strategies to foster reflection, engagement, and effective feedback in simulation-based education.

We recommend completing the Monash University NHET-SIM Core Modules 1 & 2 prior to attending this course to maximise your learning experience.

Who can Attend?

Healthcare professionals from any discipline who are interested in using simulation to improve team training, communication, and patient safety in their workplace.

Course Topics

- Core structures, tools, and strategies for effective debriefing
- Pre-briefing techniques to set learners up for success
- Creating and maintaining psychological safety
- Managing cognitive load during simulation and debriefing
- Collaborating with co-facilitators for seamless delivery
- Enhancing observation and feedback skills
- Tips and traps: Navigating challenging debriefs

Please Note:

This course focuses on simulation debriefing techniques and does not include training in simulation design and scenario delivery.

For those wishing to further develop simulation design and scenario delivery techniques, Monash Simulation offers a fully interactive 1-Day Introduction to Scenario Design Workshop, which complements this course. Participants who attend both courses are eligible for a 10% discount on the second course registration.
